SafeSourcing Launches Free eNewsletter

SafeSourcing, Inc. announces that it will be releasing a monthly eNewsletter.

Scottsdale, AZ – SafeSourcing, Inc., a leading global eProcurement company specializing in e-sourcing, Procure to Pay solutions under the SafeSourceIt™ product family and flexible service offerings, announced today that it has launched its free eProcurement monthly eNewsletter. According to Ron Southard, CEO at SafeSourcing, this newsletter will be a way to reach out to our customers, partners and vendors in order to keep them up-to-date on procurement related industry news.

The SafeSourcing e-newsletter offers insight into our company, our growing list of new features, applications, tools, and expanding services portfolio. The newsletter, which will be distributed electronically and via our website, will also provide procurement industry news and insights, procurement related index data, as well as any recent trends and successes that could affect your businesses.

SafeSourcing is an e-procurement company offering a complete Procure-to-Pay suite of applications under the SafeSourceIt™ product family that reduces costs, improves efficiency and extends the reach of current procurement organizations.

If you don't find what you are looking for in our eNewsletter, please visit our SafeSourcing daily blog published five days per week with a historical library of over 2,000 posts, our SafeSourcing Wiki with over 2,000 procurement related terms, and our SafeSourcing template library containing 1,000's of products and services sourcing templates in order to augment your procurement research and educational needs.

Thanks
